Question:

Please describe the in-field studies on CDM impacts on infrastructure demand currently underway, and state when they will be available.

Response

The two in-field case studies that are currently underway are at various states of implementation / completion. Information from the case study underway in Ingleside Ontario will be available late 2019 or early 2020 and information from the case study in Deep River ON is anticipated to be available later in 2020.
